Trade Like A Master: A Trading Mentor's Guide

The Introduction

What you're reading now is the critical, successful ending to your Quest to greater understanding and for Market Trading Mastery.

You've struggled, no doubt for years, with the markets, their charts, trends along with their counter-trends and you have the 'scars' to prove it!

Throughout all this time though, you've believed in yourself and that there was some hidden information that ruled the markets and their movements.

You never quit and so, you've qualified yourself for what your reading right now.

There are no coincidences.

All your thoughts and struggles have led you to this special place in order that you could be presented with truth and an important choice. Let's get started then.

Almost all traders & investors depend on outside sources for their assessments of stocks, commodities or forex pairs. Master Traders do not.

That very dependence becomes a weakness however when too many traders follow the same tools.

Further obscuring the results one seeks, there is no real understanding today of the limitation of the standard tools being used to analyze the markets and charts.

Their very universal availability (through every online brokerage company), should be a warning sign against and not an endorsement of their effectiveness.

This short PDF manual will give you a glimpse of a different Path;

The Path of a Master Trader.

This Path, should you choose to take it, promises to make you a formidable competitor in the markets, just as 7th degree Black Belt is a powerful presence in the martial arts competition ring.

It will hardly be fair to your weaker and less-well armed competitors.

But, they, like you, will have had their chance if they have read this same booklet that you're reading now and if they chose not to seize the potential for themselves it will clearly be their loss and to your great gain.

Trading Mastery: What Is It?

"The beginning of all Wisdom is to call things by their correct name." - Ancient Chinese Proverb.

The Power Of Threes

For us, we'll begin by defining the three components of Trading Mastery (only two of which can actually be written down as instructions).

- 1. Principles/Methods. Translation: 'How Are Things Constructed in their basic Nature. What are the Rules they function by. The Methods of Mastery of It.
- 2. Disciplined Following of the Methods. One must exercise control over one's emotions and impulses in order to do the right thing at the right time and, to do them consistently.
- 3. The Experience Gained From Applying Both Methods & Discipline. Quite apart from the first two components of Mastery, Experience gives us the confidence to tie all three together as One Approach to Mastery.

Of the three, Experience is ethereal and can't be written out as a set of instructions except to say this; that it is the confidence you'll receive from following winning, Principled Methods with unchanging Discipline.

The Master Trader's Secret

The real Master Traders like W.D. Gann and Jesse Livermore discovered hidden Principles of how the markets worked.

After their discoveries, they then applied these hidden rules over their trading careers. In Mr. Gann's case this was a 50-year period over which he is reputed to have earned over $50 million (and a much larger number in today's dollars).

These precious hidden Laws of the Markets allowed Mr. Gann to trade through all market conditions and enabled Jesse Livermore to go short at the top in the 1929 stock market.

There is another factor that the Master Traders share and one which average traders & investors rarely believe when they learn of it; SIMPLICITY.

The greatest Principles require the simplest of techniques to achieve the most reliable and outstanding results. It's what makes a Master Trader stand out from all the rest; they make it all look so easy.

This is confirmed with WD Gann who is said to have traded on the floor of the commodity exchange guided by only a small piece of paper which fit in his hand.

Jesse Livermore, the great stock trader, discovered a Principle of the Markets while he was a young boy posting prices on a chalkboard in a trading 'bucket shop' of his day.

He continued to use this hidden principle throughout his trading career.

Possessing a few, simple, well-grounded, Principle-based methods by which to measure the Markets is one of the critical factors necessary to becoming a Master Trader.

Principles

Market Principles are the unchanging laws which constitute the very structure & movements of price itself.

It also extends to Time as well as Price.

For anyone who comes to better understand these Principles or Laws, the markets will yield their power and that trader becomes free to tap into those forces for their own benefit.

Discipline

If Principle or Methods are the 'water', the Discipline is the bucket which contains and can deliver the water to where it's desired.

Principles (expressed as trading techniques) without the framework and restraint which Discipline brings, are not enough.

One must possess the strength to apply one's methods at ONLY the appropriate time and in the appropriate way.

If this isn't done, then even the best of trading methods or secrets lose much of their potential power.

All Master Traders (or masters of anything for that matter) have had to develop their own Discipline which consisted of (among other qualities), Patience, Focus, Restraint and the Steadfastness or Persistence to continue using the same market weapon that brought victories before.

Principle and Discipline also lead us and, together blend to provide us with our final component: Experience.

Experience

The Experience is what we take away from proper use of Principles and the Discipline to use them consistently.

The Experience of the victories gained from our chosen battles is what empowers us to continue our efforts again and again.

We draw our Courage from our Experiences and this is indeed, no small part of becoming a Master Trader.

What Works Is Secret

It's no small thing to state here that masters of any craft have their 'secrets' and that those skills place them far ahead of the mass of Humanity.

The secrets offered in our Trading Master Course have taken decades to discover and prove on the market battlefield.

These proven secrets are carefully shared with just a few adventurers like yourself each year and, each 'initiate' into these mysteries and secrets is sworn to great secrecy on their Honor and backed by a strong non-disclosure agreement (NDA) with the details of the required privacy and security required.

The Costs of Mastery

Mastery of Trading (like mastery of anything) comes with great cost.

We all know this instinctively, but, most choose to shy away from paying the price and instead wish to just reap the rewards without the mastery work up front.

That cost can often be measured in Struggle, Time and Resources (money).

You can, however, use Wisdom to minimize all three.

The amount of Time it may take to discover these previously unwritten laws could be more than one can spare (depending on their age).

The Resource or financial losses incurred while trying to search out these Principles can be more than most could tolerate and the Struggles in this time-consuming process can break all but the hardest of spirits.

But, there's good news here.

Wisdom herself dictates that we have a choice. Learn from others or from our own pain and suffering. But, learning requires some humility & admitting we don't know it all.

If one's ego is under control, then one may be able to humble themselves to become a student (for just a bit of time) and thereby save much of the Struggle, Time and also the Finances.

You've Already Struggled Enough!

You've already paid large dues to the market or you wouldn't be reading this now.

But, you don't have to continue on this path forever.

The True Value of Knowing the Time and the Price of a market trend shift is, ironically, priceless.

There's more to this than one's first impressions would indicate though.

We're talking about becoming independent emotionally and financially from market & political forces.

Independence of Mind and Spirit comes with the territory when one becomes a Master Trader.

Within our 'Traders Master Course', you'll find the secret methods of the Master Trader WD Gann himself.

These were kept hidden throughout his successful $50 million & 50-year career as a trader.

They're now being made available to those few who aspire to be Great (and not just good) traders.

These Principles or Techniques of Trading are the only factor that lies outside yourself; they exist objectively and are not imaginary.

These are Principles or Laws to which all markets must submit, no matter how skewed or corrupted they become.

The second factor: Discipline, is the application of persistence to following those natural laws.

All this must be done in spite of being a Human Being and therefore an emotional and changeable creature by nature.

It's ironic isn't it?

You see, to distinguish yourself as a Master Trader, you must display the almost non-human traits of consistency in following the right laws and not the wrong ones.

Though it is ironic, It's a struggle as old as Mankind.

These traits have been so prized throughout the Ages that they were given a single name: Virtues.

Knowledge & Virtues

The Knowledge of, and, the Virtue of Discipline of a Master Trader will save your most precious asset: Time.

All this while providing you with the means to have a greater, fuller appreciation of it than ever before.

The lasting rewards of becoming a Master Trader are truly great and worth the cost as they will eventually redeem your time and give it greater value.

The Traders Master Course:

Your Odyssey's Completion & Reward

This is it. Your Great Journey & Adventure's end has finally cone into view.

Only a few more strokes of the oars to bring your ship safely into home port.

Those last few strokes represent the Knowledge & wisdom you need to rip the mask off from the confusion of the Markets and reveal it's true identity and intentions.

This is the information you need to graduate from rowing a dingy to becoming the Master of your own Ship!

Time to stop jumping to the orders and opinions of someone else on their ship.

Are you ready?

All that separates you now from your aspirations, are a few previously secret details about the markets which I will share with you within the pages of the Harrison-Gann Master Course.

That, and the ambition to grab this very rare opportunity while it's in front of you.

'The Extra Mile'

Going the 'extra mile' is a characteristic of all Masters.

It's how they finally got to that point of 'Mastery'. One just needs to do more than others are willing to and go farther than other fellow travelers can even imagine to go.

How so?

They were willing to go further and work harder than everyone else. Yes, there's still room at the top for you, but, not for everyone of course. This is a hard truth of Life. No, we can't all perform equally.

You know this truth already, you must to be reading this booklet. Well, so did the Master Traders preceding you.

They chose to be different, to stand out and to outperform the average traders. That is what made them Great and is what will do the same for you. Not to worry though, there's little competition as only 1% are willing to go that 'extra mile'. That's the nature of Nature. The Choice is there for you to make:

- Choosing Method & Discipline leading to spectacular, life-changing results or
- to continue on the path of mediocrity and, obtaining the same results as everyone else is getting. In other words, following a path leading to failure and not success..
